Advertising Opportunities

Lantra - at a glance

Lantra represents 230,000 businesses in the land-based and environmental sector – that's approximately one in every ten UK businesses, around 1 million workers and 500,000 volunteers.

We are committed to helping these businesses and individuals access the training, qualifications, skills and knowledge they need across England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Not only do we work closely with leading figures from each of our 16 industries, we also partner with trade associations, membership bodies, unions, business support organisations, funding agencies, specialist land-based colleges and training providers and awarding bodies.

As a result, our online presence and industry magazine provides you with an exciting advertising opportunity where you can reach the right people at the right time.
