Introduction to this Apprenticeship Standard

The broad purpose of the occupation is to create a safe environment where the public can enjoy our water environments and the surrounding land and buildings, whilst protecting the environment, and creating habitats for species to thrive. This includes minimising flood and environmental incidents by utilising assets to manage water levels and using techniques to mitigate the impact of pollution, particularly in natural habitats.

In their daily work, an employee in this occupation interacts with members of the public as they are carrying out their duties in the field. Members of the public can include paying customers as well as the general public making use of towpaths, other public pathways and the water environment. In addition, employees will work with contractors, paid to deliver projects (usually of a construction nature, but may include maintenance), volunteers, who offer time and services to invest in their local environment, and other teams from their organisations.

Typical job titles include: Assistant Ranger, Field Team Member, Waterways Worker.

The Apprenticeship comprises of core subjects and one optional route – the four options are: Managing Assets & Responding to Major Incidents in the Water Environment, Working with Volunteers in the Water Environment, Maintaining & Working with Heritage Assets in the Water Environment, Water Level Management, Flood Risk and Drainage in the Water Environment.

On Programme Apprentice Activity and Tracking

Apprentices will need to develop the occupation standard's knowledge, skills and behaviours in order to achieve this Apprenticeship:

- A Portfolio – detailing the progress made in learning knowledge, skills and behaviours.
- A record of Off the Job Training – this is training that must occur for a minimum of 20% of the time the Apprentice is paid to work and is training delivered outside of their normal working duties – to develop a wider understanding of the industry.

The on programme portfolio must include as a minimum evidence of projects that have required the Apprentice to demonstrate the range of skills, knowledge and behaviours as of the standards. This should include photographic evidence, witness testimonies and a written report on each project undertaken. Reflective accounts and self-evaluations should not be included as evidence in the portfolio.

Mandatory Qualifications

For those with an Education, Health and Care Plan or a Legacy Statement the English and Maths minimum requirement is Entry Level 3.
