Introduction

Learn the correct techniques in our Cattle Hoof Trimming course.

Overview in brief

Each year millions of pounds are lost because of cattle lameness. Preventative trimming can reduce the risk of lameness, which can lead to loss to milk yield and breeding ability.

This is an ideal interim solution to use between the annual or biannual herd trims.

The finer details

Our one-day course will give you an overview of the techniques and equipment involved to carry out successful trimming, with plenty of time for practice.

The course sessions cover:

- Background
- Tools
- Method
- Handling
- Technique
- Practice.

You'll receive a certificate on completion of the end of day assessment. You must complete two successful trims.

Who should attend?

Herds people, any person performing hoof trimming.
